Chamber studies NSF problem

A growing problem with NSF cheques being presented to Elk Point businesses was studied at the March 21 meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, with Cst. Doug Huskins of the Elk Point RCMP in attendance to offer his advice on the matter.

A list of persons who have presented these cheques has been suggested to the Chamber, but the Chamber wished to check into the legality of this before any action was taken.

"You can't say that so and so wrote a bad cheque," Huskins told the group. "You can only say that a cheque so and so presented was returned NSF by the bank."

Huskins also cautioned the businesses about "extending credit" by giving the writers of these cheques a period in which they are to pay the amount of the cheque. This action turns the offence into a civil matter which no longer can be prosecuted for fraud. Business owners also cannot call the writers and threaten to take the matter to the police.

One case where prosecution can be made is when a person knows his account is closed and still continues to write cheques, Huskins said.

A telephone fan-out system has been tried in the past to alleviate the problem, but proved only minimally successful. "If one person doesn't call their contact, the message only gets to that point," President Millie Orr noted.

Other matters coming before the Chamber included the cable television problems, announcement of upcoming Community Futures events, and increased summer hours for the liquor store.

President Orr announced that Craig Thompson of A-1 Cable Systems will attend the April 18 Chamber meeting to hear residents' concerns with the service. An A-1 service truck has been spotted in Elk Point and a technician is at work here.

Jean Champagne of St. Paul - c Smoky Lake Community Futures reported on two upcoming presentations. YES Canada's (Youth Employment Skills) Pathfinder Learning System will be the subject of an information session on Thursday, April 5 at Regional High School, St. Paul. YES Canada's aim is to integrate young people back into Canadian society through a program of motivation and training. A Rural Economic Development Conference is scheduled for Tuesday, April 24 in Vilna, and all community leaders, town and county councillors and interested residents are invited to attend to learn how to enhance their role in the process of rural economic development.

The Chamber is currently in need of a new representative to the Community Futures Association, to replace Bill Currey, who recently tendered his resignation. This would involve one meeting per month, on the second Tuesday of each month. Lawrence Pidluzny represents the Town of Elk Point in the Association, but the Chamber needs a person from the business community as a representative, and would like any interested individual to come forth.

The Chamber will seek increased hours for the local Alberta Liquor Control Board outlet for the summer months. A request will be made that the store be open on Mondays from the May long weekend until Thanksgiving.

Membership Committee chairman Bill Jennissen reported that the Chamber has 35 paid up members to date, with a total of $970 in dues collected so far.

Security seminar

A Rural and Municipal Security Seminar for the Elk Point area has been planned for Wednesday, April 11 at 7:00 p.m. in the Community Services Centre, Elk Point.

The Elk Point RCMP Detachment, in conjunction with Elk Point Rural Crime Watch, the Farmers' Advocate, Alberta Agriculture, Lock and Key, Lloydminster, and Coast to Coast Security, Edmonton, will be sponsoring this seminar on how you can better protect yourself and your property against the criminal element.

Guest speakers will be Dan Perkins of Lock and Key, Terry Jenkins of Coast to Coast Security, Gordon McCuaig of Elk Point Rural Crime Watch and Clifford Monroe of the Farmers' Advocate office.

Property related thefts are on the rise, and a community effort is needed to stop the problem. The organizers hope to see you there.

OORP Fashion Show

A huge success

Elk Point Order of the Royal Purple celebrated the diamond anniversary of the Order with a gala evening of fashions, food and fun last Saturday evening, with a near-capacity crowd on hand as 35 models displayed the latest styles available from three local stores, Jeannine's Fashions, Stedmans and Wolanuk's Fashions and Foods, commentated by Kathy Mistol and Nita Miller.

Other local businesses also co-operated to make the show a huge success. Flowering trees which turned the stage of the Elks Hall into a spring bower and attractive arrangements on the buffet tables came from Creative Designs and Crafts, while baskets of flowers in white and lilac tones edging the stage came from Millie's Flowers and Crafts and the purple and white balloon bouquets on each table came from Woody's Trohy and Gift. The Elks Lodge provided bartending for the evening.

Hairstyles to compliment each model were skilfully done by the staff of Michelle's Hair Design and Single Styles, while makeup was courtesy of Aloette's Marilyn Palmer, Mary Kay's Kathy Lovell and Wanda Cochrane of Wanda Lynn's Body Shoppe. Fifth Avenue Jewellery courtesy of Helen Marceniuk was coordinated to each outfit.

The evening began with a welcome by Honored Royal Lady Lois Sharek, and a piano solo by Cynthia Adkins. The first set of fashions were in a casual vein, with bright neons, pinstripes and prints joining denims and snowy white coordinates. Styles included everything from shorts, mini skirts and t-shirts to pantsuits, culottes and jumpsuits. The latest swimwear, much of it in combinations of black and fluorescent colors, was also a part of this section.

A brief intermission provided time for a snack and some of the 37 door prize draws, which were announced by Lillian Ewasiuk. A solo by Sherry Oszust led the way for the second section, a wide array of afternoon wear. Culottes in a myriad of colors vied for attention with dresses of every hue, walking shorts outfits and denim suits.

Following another break and another solo by Mrs. Oszust, a breathtaking array of evening wear was displayed. Black and white, pastels and bright tones all appeared, many with ruffle trims at shoulders and hipline. Boleros and peplums, popular in the 1950s, are back in full force for the '90s, and one dress even reflected the "flapper" days of the 1920s, with its low waist and deep fringed skirt.

Debbie Lawrence, Gwen Morris and Matilda Furgher were the final entertainment for the evening, with two tuneful selections

Heinsburg hosts County Public Speaking Showcase

By Irene Magnusson

March 20 was chosen for the County of St. Paul Senior and Junior High Public Speaking Showcase, held in the Heinsburg Community School. Twenty-four offerings, involving forty-four Junior High students, and twenty-four performances, with thirty performers of the Senior High level, made up the three-hour program.

The Seniors and Juniors performed simultaneously, in two separate areas, using the Library and the Gym. Judges were Bridget Montgomery, counselor at Elk Point and Heinsburg Schools; Monica Denk, Pastor from Tulliby Lake; and Lise Velecourt, Storekeeper at Frog Lake, for the Senior High section, while Joan Daniels, Librarian of Fishing Lake; Monica King, D.H.E. of St. Paul; and Margaret Nelson, retired teacher of Marwayne judged the Junior High performers.

Michelle Peters was Master of Ceremonies for the Junior section, while Henry Thomson performed these duties for the Seniors. Bob Smith, Councillor for Div. 1, County of St. Paul, was recruited to hand out the awards at the end of the session. Sandra Bishop, Heinsburg Teacher, Coordinated the event.

Winners in the junior Section were:

Grade 7 - 1st: Andre St. Arnault, Mallaig, 2nd: Joyce Guinup, Ashmont.

Grade 8 - 1st: Crystal McPherson, Elk Point, 2nd: David Tchir, Ashmont.

Grade 9 - 1st: Sandra Knipe, Ashmont, 2nd: Maurice Gratton, Mallaig.

Winners in the Senior Section were:

Grade 10 - 1st: Kristin Kittlitz, Elk Point, 2nd: Colleen Kwaitkowski, Mallaig.

Grade 11 - 1st: David Garnett-Bennet, Stuart Gervais, Stacey Dunham, all of Elk Point, 2nd: Nina Daniels, Heinsburg.

Grade 12 - 1st: Sheldon Porcina, Elk Point, 2nd: Michael Graus, Mallaig.

All first-place winners received a medallion, on a ribbon, while second-place winners each received a pin. All entrants were presented with a Certificate.

Heinsburg Community School is a large, roomy place, easily able to host two groups of performers at once, so it was not possible to take in both programs entirely. Together with a few others, I went to each theatre for part of the time. I found the performers, for the most part, very good, and certainly enjoyed the ones I could hear. Some were sure enough of their ability to project, that they did not make use of the microphone provided, others attempted to use it and were fairly well frustrated in this attempt.

The equipment and use of it was somewhat better where the Seniors performed, but still was not doing its full duty. The mike, used by the Juniors in the Gym, was more an irritant than a help.

My suggestions would be, 1) trash the mike and make the kids yell; 2) get a longer stand (some students towered a foot over the mike) or, 3) teach the kids how to use a microphone. Surely a bit of practice and instruction in the use of a mike would not be amiss, to students attempting public speaking. There will be many situations, in the course of almost any career, where this ability will be mandatory. Few people are pleased to sit through any public speaking or artistic performance and not clearly hear what is being said. From the student's point of view, who would want to pratice and study, then travel all those miles, only to have the offering fall, unheard, into a void, because they couldn't reach the mike, or it wasn't working?

With that off my chest, I will say, Thanks for letting me come. We have some great young people out there. Watch for them in the future.

Cream Of The County

School Trustee Bob Smith congratulated the winners of the County of St. Paul Public Speaking Showcase, held in Heinsburg on Tuesday, March 20.

Miss Lakeland Pageant

Words of encouragement

A year has almost passed and it is time to begin searching for Miss Lakeland 1990. I would like to prevent what happened in 1988; the Pageant was cancelled due to a lack of interest. So I figured what better way to stir up interest than to hear, straight from the reigning Miss Lakeland, exactly what the Pageant is about and how I have benefitted from participating in it.

Last year when I saw the Pageant's ad in the newspaper, part of me immediately wanted to fill out the application form, every girl fantasizes about being in a Pageant, while another side of me was quite hesitant. I was under the impression that the Miss Lakeland Pageant was strictly a "Beauty Contest" where the contestants were judged on their looks, modelling abilities, and how well they looked in a bathing suit. This really intimidated me because prior to the Pageant my modelling experience was at a bare minimum and I won't even comment on the other criteria. However, I decided to give it a try anyway. The format of the Miss Lakeland Pageant was not at all what I thought it would be. The qualifications needed to be Miss Lakeland go far beyond one's physical appearance. Last year, we were judged on our public speaking abilities, capability of answering impromptu questions, our talents, modelling, personalities, and overall poise. As well, the bathing suit section was totally omitted. Before the Pageant, we had numerous rehearsals at which time we were given tips on how to model and on answering impromptu questions, and a lot of time to practice each of those. We also had personal interviews with each of the judges, and participated in a couple of Fashion Shows, which gave us the experience of appearing in front of a crowd. The organizers and instructors of the Pageant were extremely helpful, in teaching us the routines and how to model, and very comforting on the day of the Pageant when everyone was a little bit nervous.

For me, participating in the Miss Lakeland Pageant has certainly been an enlightening experience. It has given me more confidence to get up and speak to a crowd of people, as well as, even socializing among a group. During the Pageant preparations I developed friendships with girls from all over the Lakeland: Vegreville, Vermilion, Goodridge, St. Paul, Hairy Hill, and Lavoy. Touring the Lakeland, after bing crowned, proved to be even more rewarding. I was introduced to a lot of interesting and important people. I think I saw more of Don Mazankowski and Deborah Grey last summer than of my own Dad and Mom, but I wouldn't have missed it for the world. Everywhere I went the people were so nice and so friendly to me. I have to admit that that was the highlight of my reign. The hospitality shown to me by such communities as Smoky Lake, Vermilion, Willingdon, Elk Point, Cold Lake and the list goes on, sends a warming feeling inside of me that's hard to explain, but most enjoyable to experience. I have many fond memories of my year as Miss Lakeland and I'm thankful that I participated in the Pageant.

I hope this letter has been the final incentive some of you girls needed to fill out the application form. I also hope that I was able to intrigue some of you other girls who haven't even given the Pageant any thought. And if there are still some girls who need more encouragement, the prizes are very nice as well. Last year the surrounding communities were very supportive and I'm sure this year will be no exception. So please seriously consider being a contestant in the Miss Lakeland Pageant. I assure you, you won't regret it.

A Mad March Mix

By Irene Magnusson

It seems as though all the important news this week is about the young people of our area - Skating, public speaking, other sports and activites - all indicating a healthy, active, intelligent crop of young humanity, ready to move ahead toward the goal of taking over from today's adults.

Most of those young persons will be home this week, taking a well-deserved Spring Break, which has somehow evolved from what we once called Easter holidays. No matter. For a few days the youngsters will be out of school, mostly at home, although some will use the opportunity to travel, no doubt. I hope you parents will look them over, while they are underfoot, and realize anew how fortunate you are to have those lads and lasses in your care, enriching your lives, spilling laughter, sharing their dreams (I hope), offering love.

Being young is not easy, at best; terrifying, at worst. The more support and caring youngsters get around home, from parents and other family members, the better chance they have to survive the pressures and fears they may be facing. There is no substitute for love.

I am looking forward to sharing the company of a couple of my grandchildren, for part of that Spring Break week. I've thought of a few things to do, to entertain them, but mainly I think I'll play it by ear. Maybe they only want to rest and watch TV? Read? We shall see. If it's warm enough - we will make a snowman...or? They will give me an excuse to do some cooking, which I sometimes forget to do. And we'll talk.

That 'talking' bit is by far the most important thing we can do with our kids, I think. All too often, parents talk AT their youngsters, rather than WITH them, and many make the mistake of not LISTENING to what the kids have to say. An alert, caring parent can probably hear a lot the child is unable to say, out loud, but would like to convey by some other means - things the child might express if he had the right words, but possibly doesn't want a ready-made answer to, rather has to work it out for himself.

So I'd say 'listening' is a habit every parent and stand-in parent should practice and hone up on, where their youngsters are concerned.

It's a long time since I had young folks around that I could influence in any way, so enough of my observations on how to raise them. (But I do love 'em, and enjoy being around them - and appreciate talking to them when I can).

****

The weatherman has proved me wrong again, in last week's predictions of springlike melts and run-off, so now I'll guess - in about two weeks. Meanwhile, the skiing is good, we can fly over the snow like skaters on a pond - in some areas - and we may as well enjoy it to the slushy end. We may still have to watch how we step for some time yet, to avoid that springtime cracked wrist, skinned knee or spilled beans. Some very interesting mud-patterns have appeared on my car, and I expect a few more yet, before the daisies bloom.

Paying heed to the daily news, either reading the papers, listening to radio or watching TV, has become increasingly painful, of late, as we hear another bash of Meech Lake melange, Satanic cult crazies, elaborate Ecology expositions, drastic Drug doses (by athletes - among others) and revolutions all around the world. Perhaps if I had less spare time, I wouldn't be able to worry so much about all this, but with our modern methods of communication, we have news poured over us no matter where we are, or what we do (except skiing!). The voices of doom follow us in our vehicles, into the stores, upstairs and down.

So don't blame my grey hair only on my acute old age - much of it must come from worrying about where our next civilization is coming from, once we get through wrecking everything we have here on earth.

Oh well. Now we have a collection depot, for our excess of waste paper, and can shove at least part of that load off our shoulders, maybe they'll think of something to do with the other garbage, such as all my old scrap iron, tires, decayed vehicles, etc., and I won't have to go to my grave in shame and sorrow, guilty of having polluted a fair patch of our good earth with junk I can't get rid of. Help me, wizards. Who will have it? Who can use it?

We should be having huge contests, offering a junk-mail free year as a prize, for inventors who can come up with the most ingeneous ways to dispose of, say - glass, or tin cans, or plastic bubbles, or toys, even owl collections - all these things we are burdened with, have little use for (or none), and further awards to those who can invent ways to keep this trash from being produced in the first place. (I guess we do need cans to hold the jam, it would be so unmanageable just LOOSE - but surely - a container we could use many times?)

Maybe some of these bright young people, mentioned earlier, will be solving some of these problems, in time. I hope they do it in 'my time'.

Co-op commended

Dear Editor,

We commend Coop Manager Rodger McLaughlin's firm decision to discontinue the sale of Listerine antiseptic and Lysol spray. We challenge the other retail outlets in town to follow this lead. Wouldn't it be nice to see Elk Point be the first town in Canada to discontinue selling products that are misused.

Respectfully submitted,
Michael O'Neill and Adele Mandryk

Floor Curling

Prusak Rink Winner

By Irene Magnusson

A huge two-day Floor Curling Tournament, held in the Elk Point Pioneer Circle Seniors' Drop-In Centre, ended Friday night, about 5:30 p.m., with an Elk Point rink in top place. Twenty-four teams entered the exciting tournament, with representatives from Bonnyville, Ashmont, St. Paul, La Corey Glendon, Eastbourne and Mallaig, as well as Elk Point teams.

The "C" event winning rinks were lead by: 4th Place-Mr. Kaplan, Glendon; 3rd-M. Moorehead, Elk Point; 2nd-J.P. Campeau, Bonnyville 1st-H. Vaughn, Elk Point.

"B" Event winning Rinks were: 4th-O. Swedgan, Elk Point; 3rd-A. Stuparyk, Elk Point; 2nd-P. Plouffe, Bonnyville; 1st-A. Nadeau, East-Bourne.

"A" Event winning rinks were: 4th-A. Ballas, Elk Point; 3rd-Paul Plouffe, St. Paul; 2nd-P. Gamache, La Corey; 1st-M. Prusak, Elk Point.

The rousing close of the games was marked with singing of the National Anthem, then a rousing singsong around the piano, with many old-time favorites flung into the air. Trophies were handed out, from the innocent little Holsteins and skunks, to the tall 1st place gold and red testimonial.

Pioneer Circle Chairman Mike Palinka thanked all who had helped and the participants and guests, assuring them they had been welcome, and anticipating return bouts at some future date. Morris Cooper, coordinator, added his words of thanks and appreciation of the good attendence.

Following this, representatives from the various communites particpating came up to the mike and offered words of greetings and a few raucous stories, suitable for the close of an exciting two days.

A delicious buffet supper was enjoyed by all, with continuing good fellowship, the hundred or so persons filling the hall to capacity.

Except for the losers, who did not seem to be too unhappy either, a good time was had by all.

Grand Challenge Winners

Floor curlers Lena Kuziw, Virginia Smereka, Doris Capjack and Mary Prusak were thrilled with their Grand Challenge win at the Pioneer Circle tournament.

Environment Tip

Composting

With spring just around the corner, now is a good time to start a compost heap to benefit your future gardens.

Why Should I Compost?

Its easy and by using compost you return organic matter to the soil in a usable form. Organic matter in the soil improves plant growth by, helping to break down heavy clay soils, adding water and nutrient holding capacity to sandy soils and adding essential nutrients to any soil. Rich organic soil helps produce healthy plants. Healthy plants help clean our air and conserve our soil.

By recycling organic materials, composting can cut down on your household garbage. In fact, if you compost kitchen and yard waste, in addition to recycling newspaper, bottles and cans you can cut your waste almost in half. If all your neighbors did this too, it would dramatically reduce the amount of household garbage going to our rapidly-filling landfill sites.

More composting information to follow in the next few weeks.

Film Workshop

In conjunction with the Family Film Festival held recently, the Elk Point Ruthless Writers are sponsoring a follow-up workshop. Entitled "Transforming Myths; Using Film to See Ourselves in New Ways". The workshop will be conducted by Bonny Thompson from the National Film Board (N.F.B.) in Edmonton. It provides an opportunity to see how women's image has historically been presented in film. Clips from 42 years of N.F.B. films along with group activities will enable participants to transform limiting myths into positive images through the medium of film. The workshop will be at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 3 in Elk Point Library.

St. Patrick's Day Party at hospitial

By Irene Magnusson

St. Patrick had his day - or rather, evening - in the Elk Point Hospital Dining Room, when staff prepared and served a delicious array of snacks, along with a bit of music and entertainment, to the Extended Care patients, their families and friends.

Brightly decorated with balloons, streamers and shamrocks, and with serving 'leprachauns' flaunting the 'wearing of the green', the dining area welcomed in its guests to overflowing. Following a guessing game, involving songs of Old Erin, a pert young redhead performed an Irish Fling; Jennifer Rae, relative to Doris Andrishak, long-term patient, has studied dancing for several years, and her lively steps were appreciated.

Her cousin, Tom Rae (known to patients from other offerings) then carried on a hilarious conversation with his 'pet' monkey, which never let you know he was but a puppet on his master's arm, speaking words from his master's mouth. Elk Point is not without talented performers.

The staff are to be congratulated for an interesting and highly entertaining evening, brightening the lives of the patients, and allowing relatives and friends to share a few lighter moments with their confined loved ones. Surely, it was an evening to be remembered.

BUDGET 90

$1 Billion Cut in Deficit

Albertans want this Government to balance the budget. 1990 is an important year in our fiscal plan. With the province's strong economy, we can cut the deficit, control spending and pull back Government's role in the marketplace.

You want us to keep taxes the lowest in the country. Core programs, those that mean the most to you and your family — education, health care, the environment — should be the best anywhere.

You want a diversified economy, one that will sustain us into the 1990s and give us optimism, stable growth and jobs.

The Right Action Now

- Our deficit will be cut by more than half — a $1 billion reduction. The province's fiscal plan is on target.
- Alberta has the best expenditure management record of all the provinces. We have held growth in program spending to an average 1.8% per year since 1985-86. We will keep strict controls on Government spending.
- There is no increase in personal income taxes. Our taxes remain the lowest in Canada and we have no retail sales tax.
- Core programs are protected. We have increased funding to education, health services and the environment this year.
- Overall spending on health services is up by nearly 7% to $3.8 billion. To help pay these costs, health premiums will increase over a three-year period. Seniors do not pay premiums and 250,000 low-income Albertans' premiums are subsidized.
- Tax incentives for businesses will be reduced by $350 million in 1990-91. Alberta's small business corporate tax rate will still be at least one-third lower than other provinces.

Solid Growth Ahead

- Alberta is the place to do business in the 1990's. We will have one of the fastest growing provincial economies with a 3% growth rate this year.
- In 1989, we set a new employment record with over 1.2 million people working. The unemployment rate fell to 7.2%, the second lowest in Canada.
- In 1990, Albertans can expect 25,000 new jobs.
- More investment is going into industries such as forestry, petrochemicals and tourism. Investment outside the energy sector is up 65% since 1985.
- More than 17,000 new businesses were started in 1989, the largest number since 1981.
- Energy prices have strengthened and become more predictable. Natural gas prices and sales volumes are expected to increase in the coming years.

Your CA has more than tax advice to offer

Of course, the Chartered Accountant has undergone extensive training to keep your taxes at the legal minimum — no more, no less.
But more than that, your CA has the practical, no-nonsense business experience to help you make smart management decisions. Decisions that will steer your business clear of hazards, and toward opportunities for growth and profit.
Historical Footnote
Practice review for public protection
Since 1981, Chartered Accountants practicing public accounting in Alberta have undergone mandatory reviews of their practice policies and procedures. The reviews are conducted to ensure that the high professional standards are maintained by Alberta CAs.
Every firm — from sole practitioners to large national offices — is regularly assessed and judged for competency and compliance with these professional standards.
In this way, the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta strives to ensure the public's trust in the CA profession is well-deserved.

IT'S NOT NEW. IT'S NOT TRENDY. IT'S NOTHING TO BE ASHAMED OF.

It can happen to anyone. At any time.

In fact, one in eight Canadians can expect to be hospitalized for mental illness at least once in their lifetime.

It doesn't distinguish between age or sex, race or religion. It doesn't care about the style of clothes you wear, or the kind of music you like.

And no one's to blame when it happens, least of all those afflicted.

Fear, embarrassment, and misunderstanding prevent us from seeing it for what it is—a medical illness that can be treated, not a personal weakness or a lack of willpower.

Mental illness really can affect anyone. And that makes it worth knowing about.

To learn more, contact the Alberta Mental Health Services office nearest you. Or call your local branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

Historical Society

Looking for members

By Irene Magnusson

Some hoped-for items were missing from the agenda, as Chairman Frank Mayner opened the March 15 meeting of the Elk Point Historical Society. These included the Formal Financial report and audit; however other matters have good reports. Mike O'Neill displayed the new pins and spoons now available, depicting the Mural. Shiela Thompson, Park Committee, reported approval of an applied-for grant, which together with funds already in hand, will bring the Park to reality in the coming summer.

Various coming events were discussed, including Canada Day (a donation to this approved); payments made for last season's work have been attended to. Membership in Lakeland Tourist Association approved, and fee paid.

The Bi-centennial celebrations (1992) were touched on, and the need in this, and other respects, for more members, and the greater participation of the present members. Various plans for encouraging membership were discussed, some will be followed.

Vicki Brooker joined the group a bit late, with information from the Chamber of Commerce and LTA. and news of a "Festivals and Events Planning course" in Elk Point in October.

The group then paid tribute to Frank Mayner for a service well done, in regards to his Chairmanship over the past years, as he handed the task over to Larry Demchuk, former vice-chairman. Larry then continued with the meeting, expressing a desire to see ALL members at the next meeting, which is slated for April 12, 1990, at 7:30 p.m., in the Library. A suggestion by Mike for an evening social later in the spring to encourage membership was approved.

YOUR 1989 INCOME TAX RETURN

WHERE CAN I GO FOR HELP WITH MY TAX RETURN?

At tax time, many people have questions about how to complete their return and what information slips to include. The first place to look for answers is the General Tax Guide that comes with your return. It gives you step-by-step instructions, and helpful tax tips. But if you still have questions, Revenue Canada offers a variety of services to help you.

PEOPLE WITH QUESTIONS

WHAT KIND OF SERVICES ARE AVAILABLE?

Revenue Canada offers phone enquiry services with extended hours during the peak tax return weeks. Check the back pages in your General Guide for numbers and hours in your region. For people who require special assistance, there's a program in which volunteers, trained by Revenue Canada personnel, help those who can't leave their home. There's a special toll-free number listed in the General Guide for people with hearing disabilities, using a Telephone Device for the Deaf, and there are audio and large print guides for those who require them.

WHAT GUIDES DO I NEED?

Revenue Canada produces a variety of special guides for people with different income situations. There's an employment expenses guide, a guide for pensions and one for new Canadians, to name a few. Check the list in your General Guide. If there's one you need, contact your District Taxation Office or call the special "request for forms" number listed there.

WHY SHOULD I FILL OUT THE GREEN FORM?

The proposed Goods & Services Tax, now before Parliament, has two main objectives: to make Canada more competitive and to improve the fairness of the tax system for all Canadians. The plan includes a new credit to offset part or all of the tax for lower or modest income households. To find out if you qualify, fill out the green form that comes with your 1989 tax package. Even if you don't have to pay income tax, it's important that you send in the green form. If you qualify for the Goods & Services Tax Credit, you could receive credit cheques every three months, starting this December 1990.

WHAT IF I HAVE QUESTIONS?

Check your General Tax Guide. It has most of the answers you'll need. If you still have questions, contact your local District Taxation Office by phone or in person, and talk to the people at Revenue Canada Taxation. They're People with Answers.

Help offered for visually impaired

Representatives of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind visited Elk Point Municipal Hospital on March 8, and offered a number of coping tips for the visually impaired to an audience of seniors, hospital staff and other interested individuals.

CNIB case coordinator Giles Vienneau introduced the afternoon's speakers, and told the audience that his job is to counsel people going through a vision loss. "I'm usuallly the first person you will work with through the agency."

A video presentation which started off the afternoon indicated that the overall quality of life for those who live with vision loss can often be improved by relatively simple means such as better lighting, use of contrasting colors, and streamlined food preparation methods, as well as by such devices as talking books, talking watches and clocks, and guides for writing letters or signing cheques.

Deanna Bohun, a nurse at the CNIB in Edmonton, expained how such conditions as cataract, glaucoma and macular degeneration affect sight. Part of her job at CNIB is to run sight enhancement clinics where participants learn to "use what vision we have left to better effect."

Iona Gherasim, a rehabilitation teacher at the CNIB, who is herself legally blind, helps clients to deal with their difficulties with daily living skills, such as pairing socks by pinning them together when you take them off, to marking the heels of shoes so you can identify them, to keeping certain colored clothing together in your closet, to keeping household items in the same place all the time so they are easily found. She demonstrated simple tips to make cooking easier, such as the use of graduated measuring cups, large spice jars with large print labels and tops large enough to permit spoon access, and colored tape to mark most used temperatures on range dials.

Brian Yee, orientation and mobility instructor, showed the various types of canes which are available to help identify a person as visually impaired as well as to help them be independent in walking. His job at the CNIB is to teach people to get around safely and to know where they are. With the help of Iona, he demonstrated the proper method for a visually impaired person to walk with a sighted guide.

Ed Buksel, who also works with the CNIB, discussed technical aids now available, such as computers equipped with large print or voice, and demonstrated the use of a device which uses closed circuit television to display print from books or magazines on the screen, at whatever magnification is required to make it readable. He noted that special cribbage boards, special poker chips and large numbered playing cards are available for the visually impaired, and that many games can be adapted by such means as tape recording the questions for trivia games. Bukso displayed the large print, braille and taped versions of Reader's Digest which are available to the visually impaired.

"It's your lifestyle," he concluded. "Our job is to make it easier for you."

A Friendly Arm

Brian Yee offers a friendly arm to Iona Gherasim to demonstrate the proper way for a sighted person to assist a visually handicapped companion when out for a walk.

PTA news

Lynnette Newby, FCSS program coordinator for the County of St. Paul, was guest speaker at the March 14 meeting of the F. G. Miller Junior - Senior High School Parent Teacher Association.

Although the program just recently got underway, Mrs. Newby said the FCSS has become involved in many facets of community life. Some of these include family life education through libraries, drug awareness, child abuse prevention, and the Crisis Centre. Also, the FCSS sponsored the recent skit by University of Alberta students at FGM, and sponsors the Family School Counselor who works two days in Elk Point and two days in Heinsburg each week. Mrs. Newby said her office would welcome suggestions for additional programs.

The PTA has sent a letter reaffirming the need for renovations to FGM. A reply has been received, and indicates FGM is now second on the building list for 1991. FGM was not previously on this list.

The amended cold weather policy was presented. A recommendation will be sent to the County asking that temperatures be taken at three designated locations across the county and a decision on sending out school buses made on the results of these readings.

The subject of one day suspensions was brought up, with Principal Jim Hawkins saying he feels that this action seems to be appropriate for most students and that they take it seriously. It was noted that staff must be consistent in their discipline.

A workshop is available for parents and teachers on the value of global education. Mr. Hawkins will look into setting this up.

FOR GRACE AND ERNIE BROWN, THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME!

Grace and Ernie Brown at home in Calgary, Alberta

"Our home's important to our health and independence."

Like many Alberta seniors, Grace and Ernie Brown treasure their home greatly.

"We've been in this house for 30 years and raising a family here has made our home into a home," says Ernie.

When they're not busy at the Kirby Centre in Calgary, they spend much of their time at home. Grace and Ernie have side-by-side TV sets—so they can watch favourite shows simultaneously, together. Ernie uses the headphones.

For some seniors, health problems can make it difficult to get around or take care of the home. Fortunately, there are many community services available in Alberta that can assist seniors in living at home. To find out more about these services, call toll-free for our brochure, Home is where the heart is, a guide for seniors on community services for independent living.

Special Ed. Program

Hot Lunch program

A noon hour hot lunch program has operated for a number of years at F. G. Miller High School as a life-skills module of the Special Education class, instructed by Ron Onusko. Some years, other groups such as grad classes and parents have helped with the program.

This year, parents prepare hot lunches on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, while the Special Ed students prepare them on Mondays, Thursdays and Fridays.

The financial section of the program is called 2M Resources, and takes care of purchasing, bill paying and banking. Originally there were two classes of students (minors) involved, and as they felt that people are society's greatest resource, the name 2M Resources evolved.

In the past, 2M has purchased cross country ski outfits, a refrigerator, a meat slicer and other utensils. It is an integral part of the Christmas Brunch and the concession for numerous tournaments.

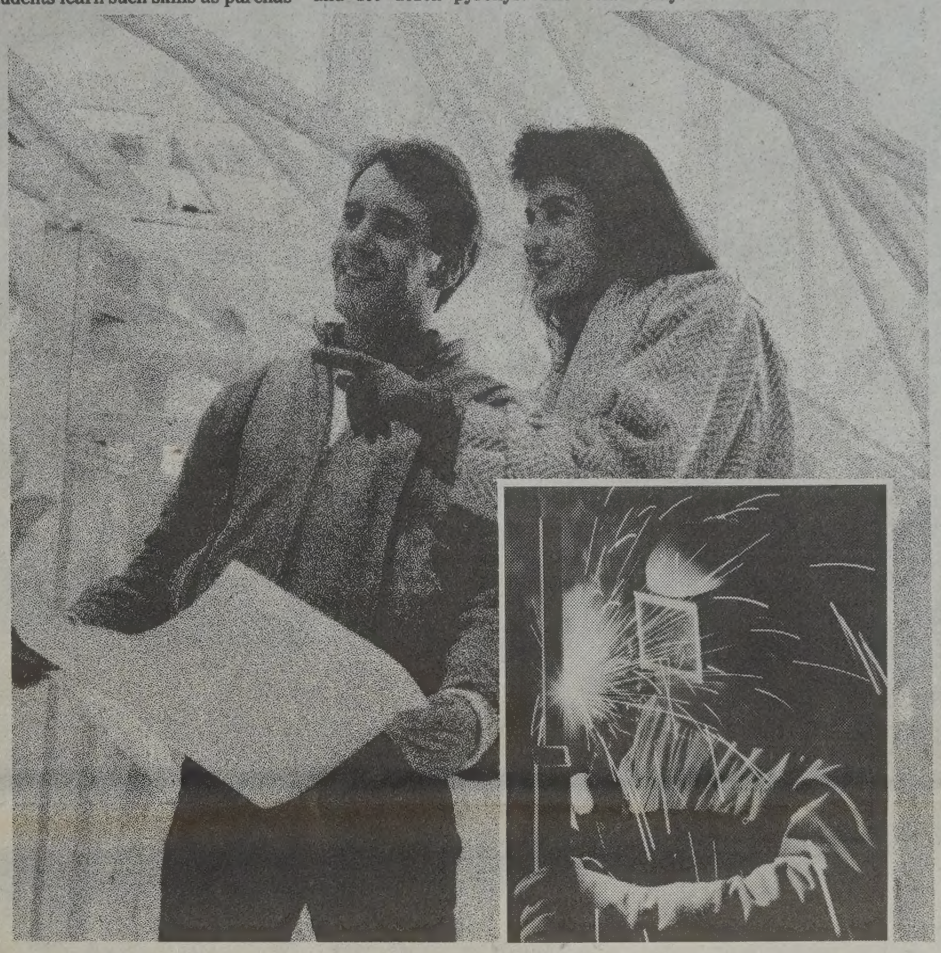
Through the hot lunch program, students learn such skills as purchasing at the best possible price, planning, money management and food preparation.

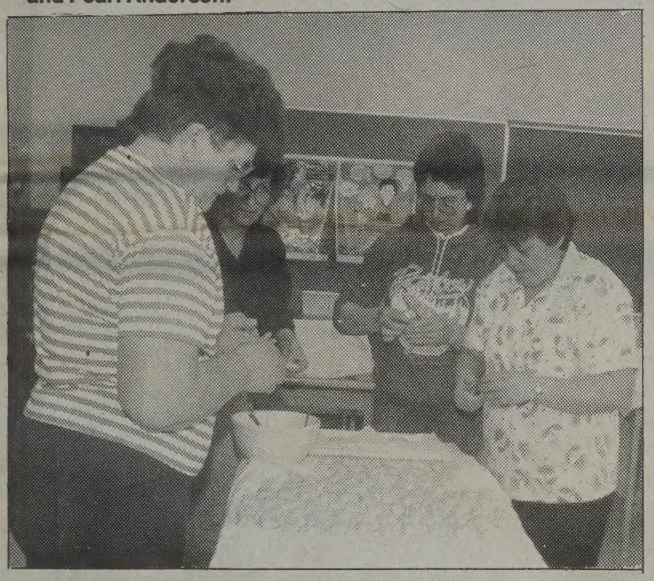
This Monday was one of the periodic Pyrohy Preparation Days for the parents group. With the assistance of three senior ladies, affectionately known as 'the Babas,' a group of mothers spent the morning preparing fillings and dough, and the afternoon rolling, cutting and pinching the flavorful ethnic treats, until tables were filled with between 150 and 160 dozen pyrohys. The completed pyrohys are taken on trays to Elk Point Packers, where they are frozen for storage until they are needed. The pyrohys, along with sausage and sour cream, are a popular treat on the days the parents serve lunch.

The parents would like to express special thanks to the 'Babas,' for their willing and able assistance, to Elk Point Packers for freezing the pyrohys, and to the Ukrainian Dance Club for the use of their boards and trays.

The Babas

Nettie Babenek, Mary Bespalko and Doris Hawryluk were presented with gifts of appreciation by the adult organizers of the Hot Lunch Program's pyrohy making crew. Not shown were two other longtime volunteers, Julia Pankiw and Pearl Anderson.





Assembly Line

Perogys by the pansful are rolled, cut, filled and pinched by the ladies who gather frequently to manufacture up to 160 dozen of the tasty ethnic treats at a time, in preparation for the Hot Lunch Program.

Learning a trade can be your ticket to success.

Whether you measure the rewards in financial terms, or in the good feeling of a job well done, good work does have its rewards.

If you know someone who is thinking about a career in a skilled trade, you can share some important facts to help him or her make the right decision.

- There are over 50 career options that have been designated as skilled trades in Alberta.
- Skilled trades provide the fastest-growing employment opportunities in the province. Some trades are already experiencing visible shortages in professional skills.
- 80 per cent of Alberta's economy is based on the success of small business. Many of those businesses started from a career in a skilled trade.
- Becoming a skilled tradesperson is an organized and professionally administered career and training process — a process called apprenticeship.

Alberta is dependent upon the good work of people in skilled trades, and through the combined efforts of government and business, provides the best apprenticeship system in Canada. Skilled tradespeople who apprentice in Alberta are respected throughout the country and accepted around the world.

Alberta Apprenticeship is designed to develop excellence through training and experience. While enjoying the financial benefits of employment with a participating business, apprentices learn their trade through an industry-designed training program. This involves practical training with certified professionals on the job, and technical training at one of 16 schools throughout Alberta. This technical training is designed and delivered by industry and education professionals and, with the practical training, leads to trade certification in over 50 designated trades.

If you'd like to help someone who is considering a career in skilled trades, share the facts. And, if they'd like more information about career opportunity in Alberta's skilled trades, we're here to help, too. Just call or visit the nearest Alberta Career Development Centre.

ACA meet at Cold Lake

By Irene Magnusson

The Region 2 branch of the Alberta Council on Aging (ACA) met for their annual conference in the Seniors' Drop-In Centre at Cold Lake, Monday, March 19, 1990 with around twenty members present.

Following reading of the last annual meeting minutes by secretary, Dorothy Brickett, and the financial report by treasurer, Sadie Buchanen, the group heard a brief report from Sid Holthe. He introduced Paul Poty, of St. Paul, a new member, and reported on the new boundaries, as defined by the Board.

Several Districts either had no representative, or they were absent. Some reported finding it hard to get response from seniors in their districts. Sid reported that the 'Region' considered a 'pilot project' before, is now a permanent feature of ACA, and that perhaps there will soon be other Regional Boards set up, in the province.

Don MacAlister, who has been chairman of the Region since its beginnings, announced that he was over-burdened with work and responsibilities, and wished to resign, although he still had one more year in his term. Later in the day, at the regular members' meeting, Paul Poty was elected to serve out the term as Chairman. Marie Nickolls of Grande Centre thanked Don McAllister for all his work on behalf of the group.

Section 1A (Article 19) has been eliminated from the By-Laws, as it no longer applies.

Mr. Poty was appointed to represent the Region on the ACA Board, subject to acceptance by that group.

Sid Holthe suggested a list of directives for Directors, who find it difficult to know what their role is in the community, and what is expected of them. Members indicated this would be very useful. It is not their role to 'push seniors' into doing anything - c but rather to help them in what THEY wish to accomplish.

It was decided to no longer ask for membership fees in the Regional area, as it makes for too much confusion, but rather the Region will ask for donations from organizations, corporations and individuals to cover costs, and to more actively promote membership at the provincial level. Presently membership in the ACA is $10 annually per individual. It was pointed out that Alberta has 200,000 Seniors, yet only 2,000 are paid-up members in ACA, an organization devoted to Seniors' interests.

A list of meetings in the various areas were drawn up, an effort made to distribute them as evenly as possible around the Region. The first one will be April 11, 1990, in the Athabasca Senior Citizens Centre, at Athabasca, commencing at 10:00 a.m.

The group then heard a talk from Constable Dan McNaughton, on driving, by seniors and others, and a variety of other matters pertaining to the movement of traffic and other driving do's and don'ts. He touched on seatbelt use, impaired drivers, and check-stops, closing with a touch of humor: Driver, to the RCMP at check-stop: "Do the police have a quota to fill?" RCMP: "No. We used to, but now we can arrest as many as we like!"

After installing the new Chairman, Holthe read a poem, "I'm not Old - i I'm just Mature," to the entertainment of members present. Adjournment followed.

Paving planned for Highway 893

EDMONTON- Alberta Transportation and Utilities will call for tenders for 16.21 kilometres of paving on Secondary Highway 893 near Dewberry, as was announced recently by Alberta Transportation and Utilities Minister Al "Boomer" Adair and Lloydminster M.L.A. Doug Cherry.

The project will involve final paving, from the junction of 45 north to the junction of Secondary Highway 640 south of Heinsburg.

Mr. Adair said, "Alberta Transportation and Utilities is committed to providing surface improvements throughout the province's secondary highway system by the year 2000. It is our mandate to ensure that all Albertans enjoy the benefits of safe and convenient highway access."

"The communities of the Lloydminster area are well served by Alberta Transportation and Utilities, and I know many people will appreciate this news of a further commitment to their rural highways," Mr. Cherry added.

The paving project on Secondary Highway 893 is scheduled to be completed this fall. No disruptions in traffic are anticipated.
